Notice

Year 2020 being the golden jubilee year of Earth Day Celebration we here at BBPS love doing experiments and taking on challenges. In fact, one of the strategies of BBPS is to “lead by example in environmental stewardship whenever possible.” BBPS is celebrating International Earth Week (from 19th April to 25th April, 2020).

We might be facing Lock Down but our spirits are free and our creativity is fluttering to soar high. BBPS has designed some innovative competitions. (attached for your reference).

Select the event of your choice, wear your thinking cap and prepare for your participation. The google form for participation will be active on 21 April. Be an early bird and register to upload your creation as the first 50 entries will be the part of competition.
